Sandoval County services to continue with less staff Public Safety unchanged/ Community Services Modified

Sandoval County, NM – Based on the updated public health order issued by Health Secretary Kunkel, and in order to slow the spread of COVID-19, a select number of Sandoval County Employees will be working from home beginning March 17, 2020. The county is taking every step possible to ensure staff safety in the wake of the Coronavirus pandemic.

The County administration building will be CLOSED to the public, with limited access to county employees in each department, which still allows the county to run its day-to-day operations successfully.

1. Essential – must report to work as normal
2. Essential and Non-essential – telework from home
3. Non-essential – remain at home but available for call-in as needed

Law enforcement, firefighters and rescue personnel, 911 dispatch, and the Sandoval County Detention Center (no in-person visitation) will work as normal. Additionally, Public Works and Community Services are working as normal with minor exceptions.

The closures and reductions are in an effort to control the spread of COVID-19 and limit personal contact between residents. Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham has asked residents to stay at home and if they do go out, to keep at least a six-foot distance to avoid contact.
