Comments:

While opening small and other businesses to stimulate our economy is very important, please consider our safety and the broad 'opening'. We must exercise extreme caution. We need to consider how to educate all constituents on safety measures. For consideration:

–Customers need to be in masks, not just employees.

–If employees and/or customers are not wearing gloves, there should be ample supplies of hand sanitizer.

–There should be procedures in place for each company on how to sanitize their shops. What to use, how to use it, when to use it/how often.

–All service companies, e.g., grocery stores, jewelry stores, etc., must be able to offer curbside pick-up, and therefore online ordering.

–Full testing for the presence of COVID – for non-expressive carriers, patients, surviving patients, persons exposed to positive patients, etc., must be available before broad opening of small, large, et al businesses.

Thank you for this consideration.
