Comments:

As a former US Public Health Service I support the science and not the politics to drive decisions as to what should be considered essential vs non-essential services. The science does not support restricting one type of business over another if they can comply with CDC guidelines, i.e. social distancing, application of facial coverings and disinfecting. The science views the environment where and how people occupy common space. I support the Governor to revisit the discrimination currently applied to the "type" of business and apply the science to all businesses whereby can a business safely apply CDC guidelines.
