Comments:

I have lived and worked as a Realtor in Placitas for the last 15 years. I see the need first hand for townhomes. A couple usually builds or buys what is their dream home here knowing it is where they want to live and spend their twilight years. The home is amazing and they enjoy many happy years here making friends, being involved in the community, learning new hobbies etc. Then one of the spouses dies and the remaining spouses world is turned upside down. The remaining spouse determines the stucco needs some repair, the yard man didn't show up and the roof leaked in the heavy rain just this week. They want a new smaller home that has the exterior and grounds maintained for them. It is not available in Placitas and they not only have to leave their church, their community, their friends and support network. It's very sad that this is wanted by the silent majority and not the noisy, negative nellies.

Sincerely,
Jennise Phillips
