Comments:

As a citizen of the Village of Corrales, I urge you to support the map proposed by commissioner Eichwald. Generally speaking, this map provides boundaries that preserve communities of interest, given other constraints that are generally accepted to achieve fair districts.

In particular, while preserving communities of interest and maintaining populations as equal as possible,

- The districts are compact to the extent possible (i.e., ratio of circumference to area is low), given the presence of urban areas and rural, sparsely populated areas in the county.
- Due consideration is given to minority interests as is of particular concern to our Native American communities.
- District boundaries follow geographic and other natural boundaries, such as main roads, that tend to define communities of interest.

Thank you for your consideration.
