Comments:

I am writing to respond to the restrictions on voting rights to be presented at the next meeting. I am outraged that this sort of action is being proposed, especially following the assault on re-districting that is currently being contested. This is the worst that is following in the footsteps of "The Big Lie" and I can only hope the Commission finds it's moral compass before moving forward with these actions. You are supposed to represent our democracy and the inclusion of all voters.
